

Martha Summa-Chadwick, DMA, has achieved a national reputation as a performer of chamber and solo works for piano and also as an advocate of the use of music in therapy. She holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the Hartt School of Music, a Master of Music degree from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Kansas. Dr. Summa-Chadwick has performed in roles of both piano and harpsichord soloist with orchestras in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, and Alabama, and has also specialized in performing 20th century chamber and solo works. She has completed both Academy and Fellowship level training at Colorado State University's Center for Biomedical Research in Music. She served twenty-six years on the faculty of the Cadek Conservatory in Chattanooga, and is the Executive Director of the nonprofit organization Music Therapy Gateway In Communications, Inc.